Data through Jan 19, 2021 verified as of Jan 20, 2021 at 09:25 AM

Data in this report are provisional and subject to change.

The numbers in the table below represent the number of Florida and non-Florida residents for whom test results were received by the Department of Health. A person can be tested by more than one laboratory and can have both positive and negative results. Therefore, the sum of the numbers in each column will be larger than the total number of people tested.

Data in this report are provisional and subject to change.

The numbers in the table below represent the number of Florida and non-Florida residents for whom test results were received by the Department of Health. A person can be tested by more than one laboratory and can have both positive and negative results. Therefore, the sum of the numbers in each column will be larger than the total number of people tested.

Data in this report are provisional and subject to change.

The numbers in the table below represent the number of Florida and non-Florida residents for whom test results were received by the Department of Health. A person can be tested by more than one laboratory and can have both positive and negative results. Therefore, the sum of the numbers in each column will be larger than the total number of people tested.
